Negin Nabavi is Associate Professor in the History Department at Montclair State University. She is currently a member of the Institute for Advanced Study, School of Historical Studies. Her most recent publication is Modern Iran: A History in Documents. Markus Wiener Publishers, 2016. Her current research project examines the emergence and shaping of "publics" and "public spheres" in the late 19th and early 20th century Iran.